2015 (4) Many parents in Hong Kong are sending their children to other countries to complete their schooling. Write an article for your school magazine examining two reasons for this phenomenon. You should also discuss the impact of this on local school and on children who leave to study overseas.

Is study overseas better or worse?

Have you ever wondered about studying overseas? Will studying in a foreign countries helps you better gain knowledge or personal growth? In light of gaining better educational quality and build up relationship with foreign citizens, majority of parents in Hong Kong prefer sending their children to overseas to complete their education recently. However, there are impacts that may increase burden to students. If you are interested with this phenomenon, you must not miss the following paragraphs!

First of all, the main reasons why immense of parents in Hong Kong prefer sending their children to overseas to complete their study is the educational quality. Some may think that most of the developed countries such as England, Canada, Australia etc provide a higher educational quality, better study atmosphere, and greater emphasis on critical thinking skills and creativity. Due to majority of Asia parents believe in a better education environment could help their children gain more knowledge, they would like to send their kids to foreign countries study. Beside, not only studying overseas offer higher educational quality, but also help students develop their friends-circle. While students having education in different countries, they could better understand foreign culture and communicate with local individual. According to a renewed study from 'Young Post', it shows that 80 percent of Hong Kong city dwellers have fewer chances to meet with residents who came from other countries. In contrast, to those individuals who were ever studying overseas, most of their friends are come from different countries. In that way, parents realized that while sending their children to overseas studying can productively improve children's social skills and raise their global awareness such as following with the global social issue, fashion trend etc. Meanwhile, studying in a foreign countries can boost students' language skills and broaden their horizons. Therefore, these two benefits are the the reasons ^{why} many ^{wordy} Hong Kong parents would like to send their children in a foreign countries to complete their education.

^{neutral} Although there ^{one} a variety of advantages of studying overseas, there are also some ^{impacts} that may burden students' psychologically health, no matter on local schools or foreign schools. The main influence of students who studying overseas is the serious ^{different} mental burden ^{is not financial burden}. ^{What?} In light of majority of Hong Kong family can hardly afford the financial resources for a whole family's immigration, those children have to face ^{the} immense difficulties by ^{themselves}. Meanwhile, when those students face difficulties such as ^{life obstacle}, ^{academic setback} etc, they cannot share their thought and emotion to their family and friends ^{in the reality}, especially students who studying in ^{different terms} northern hemisphere, their parents may not reply their message immediately. In ^{these} situation, those adolescents may feeling isolated and depressed, some of them may even have a psychological disorders such as sleeping disorder, anxiety disorder and depression. Those ^{will} definitely hampers students' personal growth. On the other hand, to students who studying in local schools, this phenomenon ^{might} increased their ^{academic} learning pressure. Considering majority of foreign schools prefer cultivating students' personal skills such as teamworking skills and creativities instead of focusing in their result, a large portion of foreign students gain better confidence than local students. For examples, while having some collective activities, those foreign graduate will be more engaging in a conversation. It led to local students have lower competitiveness in the future, since Asian schools prefer students to gain an remarkable academic result.

All in all, ^{immense of} Hong Kong parents prefer sending their children to other countries to complete their schooling, in this widespread phenomenon, it ^{seems that it} brings out benefits to students, however, there are also ^{disadvantages} that might hamper students' personal growth on foreign and local. ^{As} we all are students, would you prefer studying in foreign schools? Or stay in Hong Kong?
